

Society.

Every social organization on both sides of the river met in Easter celebration during the present week, and so strong has been the race that the coming week will be used for taking breath before a real onward movement for the ending of the season will be undertaken. The only affairs scheduled to-day for the next week are the Pollock entertainment to the Island Whistlers, next Thursday evening, and the Caldwell-soiree-musical for the benefit of the King's Daughters of St. Matthew's P. E. church, next Monday evening. The elaborate entertainments of the Easter week were the Cotillon dance, the Arion and Carroll club affairs, the Married People's Euchre, the Island whist, the Splinters' circus entertainment, the Twentieth Century Girls' reception, the Rabbit's Foot Club party, and the Whalley-Deat wedding. The charity institutions of the city were all remembered by the directing board and friends with flowers and other tokens in commemoration of the season.

The board of managers of the Children's Home arranged a very pretty and interesting entertainment for the children last Saturday evening. A delightful programme of recitations and songs was sweetly rendered, each child acquitting itself with credit. Friends of the institution who remembered the inmates were Mrs. Oscar Burdett, the King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church, Plate & Hane and Mrs. Ziegenfeller, who presented each inmate with an egg upon which the owner's name was embossed.

Miss Effie Lewis and Miss Gertrude Fisher entertained the Splinter organization and Miss Mary Alexander, of Canton, the house guest of Miss Lydia Good, at the Ringling circus last Thursday night, chartered by Mrs. J. J. Jones, aunt of Mrs. Lewis. The souvenirs were green and white bags filled with peanuts, to which was attached a stick of red and white candy. These were enjoyed during the performance, after which supper was taken at the Plate & Hane parlors.

Miss Lydia Good beautifully entertained the Twentieth Century Girls in honor of her guest, Miss Alexander, of Canton, at the Good home on Fourteenth street, Monday afternoon. The prizes were won by Miss Louise Todd Baird, Miss Ella Howell, Miss Smith, house guest of Miss Grace Hoge, and Miss Martha Ott.

Mr. Henry M. Russell, Jr., was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Russell, during the Easter vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Clarke and daughter, Miss Martha Clarke, of North Main street, will spend the summer on the continent.

The Married People's Euchre Club was handsomely entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Walker Frissell and Mrs. Frank Heane Crockett, at the Frissell home on Fourteenth street. The prize winners were Mrs. Joseph Gibbs, Miss Janie Good, Mrs. B. C. Dent and Mrs. Hannah Forbes. The next entertainment will be for ladies and gentlemen, Friday evening, May 4, and will be given in Echo Point barn.

The Island Whist Club was beautifully entertained by Mr. and Mrs. James B. Toney Tuesday evening.

A brilliant event is promised at the George B. Caldwell home next Monday evening, for which a splendid array of talent has offered its services. The affair will be a social and artistic success, and is given for the benefit of the King's Daughters of St. Matthew's P. E. church. The programme in full follows:

AT REGULAR ELECTION

The Proposed Coke-line Bond Issue May be Submitted to the People—Matter to be Decided by County Commissioners on May 7.

It is said that the $500,000 bond issue by Ohio county in aid of the Uniontown, Waynesburg & West Virginia railroad may not be submitted to the people of the county until the regular November election. It is said the necessary legal steps for a special election could not be completed before August, and that the full vote that would be assured in November would make the success of the issue assured, while at a special election it would be difficult to get out a full vote.

The matter will come up at the meeting of the commissioners on Monday, May 7. In the meantime the prosecuting attorney will investigate the legal phases of the matter and report to the board at the time mentioned.

SUICIDE ATTEMPTED.

Yesterday Morning by Charles Linder—He May Recover.

Dependancy caused by his ill health induced Charles Linder, of 106 Coal street, to attempt suicide yesterday morning. With a barrow knife he slashed his throat and finding that the wound was not likely to have fatal results, he then cut his wrist in the hope that he would bleed to death. Mrs. Thomas Walker, at whose house Linder boarded, summoned Dr. Ulrich as soon as he learned of the affair, and the doctor stanching the bleeding cuts. Linder was removed to the county infirmary at Elm Grove and it is thought he will recover. Linder inflicted his injuries while in his bedroom and he was unconscious when discovered by Mrs. Walker about two hours later. It is reported for him, neither cut was deep enough to sever an artery. Linder was employed at the Top mill blast furnace, but lately has been out of work on account of ill health, and his illness made him subject to fits of melancholy.

A Generous Act.

The local council of the Royal Arcanum had $50 in its banquet fund, and the members were looking forward to an evening of convivial enjoyment, but learning of the needs of the Day Nursery, one of Wheeling's most effective charities, the council most generously voted the $50 to the King's Daughters, under whose auspices the Nursery is conducted. The Daughters desire to express their sincere thanks.

AMUSEMENTS.

Dan Quinlan, the Chesterfield of modern minstrelsy, is again at the helm with the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels. Mr. Quinlan is possibly the best known interlocutor in the profession, and is very popular with all theatre-goers. His costumes are always beautiful and his courtly manner and breezy conversation a feature in the first part of the performance. Dan is also stage director and is for a new feature, "Sparks from the Opera," is the prettiest and catchiest musical novelty that has ever been used in the opening of a minstrel entertainment. Fields' Minstrels come to the Opera House to-day for matinee and evening performances.

Henrietta Crossman.

If the Metropolitan endorsement of a play means anything, Emerson Howard's comedy, "One of Our Girls," that Henrietta Crossman will bring to the Opera House next Wednesday night, should certainly prove an unusually interesting play, for it has the record of an entire year's run at the Lyceum Theatre, in New York City, and is besides called Mr. Howard's best effort. "One of Our Girls" is purely an American play, and is sure to appeal to Americans. In this play Miss Crossman is said to have scored the hit of her life, and the critics in the large cities unite in saying that "One of Our Girls," as played by the comedienne, Henrietta Crossman and her company, is one of the most artistic and enjoyable entertainments in America to-day.

On Friday evening, April 27, the Opera House will have the Anglo-American success, "Why Smith Left Home," by George H. Broadhurst, author of "What Happened to Jones," both of which have proven as great successes in England as in this country. In the "Smith" play Mr. Broadhurst has written a farce thoroughly

"The Jolly Little Host." "The Jolly Little Host" Smith and De Lange's merry creation, with the well known and fascinating Corina, will be the attraction at the Opera House Thursday evening, April 26. It is three years since the last appearance of this charming little woman in this city, and pleasant memories still remain of the work then presented by her. The company by which she will be supported is composed of artists whose names are very familiar to all theatre-goers, notable among whom are R. E. Graham, Louis De Lange, John J. Raffael, Ruth White, Genevieve Reynolds and Emily Francis. Manager Howe has done his utmost to surround Corina with every requisite for a proper presentation of the merry and laughable little play, "The Jolly Little Host."

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

There were two large audiences at the Grand yesterday to witness the production of Al. W. Martin's "Uncle Tom's Cabin," with its excellent scenic effects, large and capable cast, and notable vaudeville specialties. The Al. W. Martin show is a full amusement enterprise, requiring two mammoth cars for its transportation. The daily street parade gives evidence of the magnitude of the production. The performance itself is complete in every detail, and deserves liberal patronage. The half week engagement at the Grand will close with matinee and night performances to-day.

For the Wheeling Inter-Staters yesterday Afternoon—Bowman and Poole Pitch Great Ball—Another Game To-day.

The West Virginia University baseball nine crossed bats with the Wheeling Inter-staters yesterday afternoon, and the professionals won 3 to 1, after nine innings of exciting base ball, the feature of which was the great pitching of Bowman and Poole, the former being loaned to the University. But for the many errors of the visiting team's infield, the game would have been a victory for the collegians. However, the Stogies were cheated out of two long hits, made by Lyons and Turner, declared foul by the umpire, but which were really two and three baggers respectively.

Wheeling scored in the opening inning, Congalton reaching first on an error, and making the circuit on two other misplays. The visitors tied in the same inning on Deming's hit, his stolen base and a single by Paastorius.

Inning after inning passed without runs, until the eighth, when the Stogies walked off with a bunch of two. Taylor walked on four wide ones and promptly stole second. Lyons walked, too, and then both runners participated in a double steal. On Turner's out to center field, Taylor scored, and Lyons came in on Rothapel's corking two-bagger. Regularity hit for a slashing single, and Rothapel attempted to score, but was thrown out at the plate.

A Well-Earned Victory.
NEW YORK, April 20.—The New Yorks scored a well-earned victory over the Brooklyn at the Polo grounds this afternoon. The Brooklyn began with a rush, but the substitution of Doherty for Seymour in the third inning saved the day.

In Eleven Innings.
PHILADELPHIA, April 20.—The base ball season opened here today under auspicious circumstances. The attendance was of the holiday order, and the spectators had the satisfaction of seeing Philadelphia defeat Boston in a closely contested eleven-inning game. There was nothing particularly brilliant about the game, it was a pitched battle and neither appeared to have the better of it, but his support was not equal to that of Fraser. Boston's defeat was the result of two errors.

"My nervous system was entirely broken down by overwork. I could not eat nor sleep. For four months I was in the hospital, but without any decided benefit. At last, I purchased a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and soon felt its wonderful curative effects. Four bottles of the Compound restored me to health and strength; I am now ambitious to work, have a good appetite, and sleep well."
